ZEETOX ECOSYSTEM

ZEETOX, a HealthFi project combining web2, web3, and offline elements, is a revolutionary movement to build a future global community with zero toxics.

Genetics plays 25% of the role in human life, whereas the other 75% is contributed by individuals' lifestyles. By customizing lifestyle recommendations based on users genetic makeup stored on the blockchain, ZEETOX creates value within its ecosystem with the highly scalable business model.

ZEETOX envisions the huge potential of medical cannabis and the disruption it brings to the HealthFi industry. On June 9, 2022, Thailand became the first country in Asia to legalize cannabis nationwide. Shortly after, the ZEETOX team acquired 113,600 sqm of farmland in Chiang Rai, Thailand to cultivate cannabis. Using cannabis as one of the backbones of the project, ZEETOX aims to create a revolutionary movement to build a future global community with zero toxics.

CBD (cannabidiol) is a chemical compound found in cannabis. It is used for anxiety, pain, dystonia, Parkinson's disease, Crohn's disease, and many other conditions. CBD is legal in most countries.

ZEETOX CULTIVATION

At the heart of our philosophy lies a profound reverence for nature's treasures.

Our herbal and CBD offerings, cultivated directly from our verdant farm in Chiangrai, Thailand, harness the soothing power of these plants, offering a gateway to relaxation, stress relief, potential pain management and overall wellness.

These meticulously sourced creations are a testament to the harmonious relationship between humans and plants, providing a holistic path to rejuvenation.

LAND TYPE

RED ROCKY

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 1
REWARD RATIO: 2.5%

The dominant feature is exposed reddish-colored rocks or rock formations, with red coloration often due to iron oxide or other minerals.

They may have limited vegetation and are often visually striking due to the contrast between the red.

YELLOW CLAY

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 2
REWARD RATIO: 7.5%

Composed primarily of fine particles with a yellowish color, it has a high water-holding capacity but can be prone to compacting and becoming sticky when wet.

GREEN GRASSLAND

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 3
REWARD RATIO: 15%

Covered predominantly with lush green grasses, it is characterized by a diverse range of grass species. Grasslands are important habitats for grazing animals, and support rich biodiversity,

BLACK SOIL

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 4
REWARD RATIO: 25%

A fertile type of soil that is dark in color due to its high organic matter content, it is commonly found in regions with a moderate climate and a history of grassland vegetation.

GOLDEN SAND

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 5
REWARD RATIO: 50%

Sandy land where the sand particles have a golden or yellowish hue, is often composed of finely weathered rock or mineral fragments and is characterized by its loose and granular nature.

SOIL TEXTURE

BARREN

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 1
REWARD RATIO: 2.5%

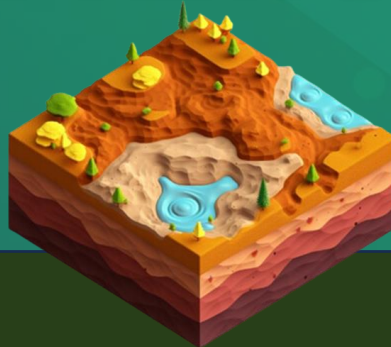

Lacking in essential nutrients and organic matter, making it unsuitable for supporting healthy plant growth. It is typically dry, devoid of vegetation, and often sandy or rocky in texture. Barren soil may require significant amendments, such as adding organic matter and nutrients, to make it fertile and suitable for planting.

NORMAL

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 2
REWARD RATIO: 7.5%

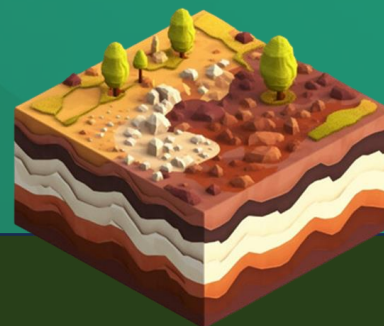

Normal soil has a balanced composition of minerals, organic matter, and water-holding capacity. It provides a good foundation for plant growth, offering adequate drainage and nutrient availability. Normal soil is often loamy, which means it has a mixture of sand, silt, and clay particles. This type of soil is generally fertile and supports healthy plant growth without significant amendments.

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 3
REWARD RATIO: 15%

Average soil refers to soil that falls in between normal and fertile soil conditions. It may have a moderate level of nutrients and organic matter but might require some supplementation for optimal plant growth. Average soil can vary in texture, ranging from sandy loam to clay loam. While it may support basic plant growth, additional amendments like fertilizers and organic matter can enhance its fertility and productivity.

FERTILE

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 4
REWARD RATIO: 25%

Fertile soil is rich in nutrients, organic matter, and microbial activity, making it highly conducive to robust plant growth. It has a well-balanced texture, often characterized as loam, which allows for good drainage while retaining adequate moisture. Fertile soil provides essential nutrients to plants and promotes healthy root development. It usually requires minimal amendments and is capable of sustaining a wide range of crops and vegetation.

ABUNDANT

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 5
REWARD RATIO: 50%

Exceptionally rich in nutrients, organic matter, and microbial life, it is the epitome of fertile soil, providing an optimal environment for plant growth and productivity. It is typically loamy, with an excellent water-holding capacity and optimal nutrient availability. It supports vigorous plant growth, high crop yields, and thriving ecosystems without the need for extensive amendments.

PLOT SIZE

EXTRA SMALL

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 1
REWARD RATIO: 2.5%

Very compact and has limited area. It might be suitable for a small garden. This size of plot is more conducive to container gardening or vertical gardening techniques.

SMALL

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 2
REWARD RATIO: 7.5%

Relatively modest in size, it may be sufficient for a small vegetable garden. It provides a bit more space for planting and farming.

MEDIUM

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 3
REWARD RATIO: 15%

Offers more space and versatility. It is ideal for building a standard medium-sized garden. A medium-sized plot of land offers greater opportunities for agricultural endeavors.

LARGE

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 4
REWARD RATIO: 25%

Expansive and provides ample space for various purposes. It provides ample room for diverse agricultural activities. It can sustain a substantial vegetable garden with multiple rows or raised beds, allowing for crop rotation and increased yields.

EXTRA LARGE

RARITY ATTRIBUTE: 5
REWARD RATIO: 50%

Characterized by its vastness and potential for diverse applications, it is commonly found in rural or agricultural settings. This size of plot is ideal for large-scale farming, or developing a sizeable extensive gardens

PHASES OF GROWTH

GERMINATION
PHASE 1

The germination stage is the first stage in the cannabis plant cycle.

A single root, called the radicle, will shoot downwards as the new stem grows upwards pushing the seed out of the soil which can last anywhere between 5 to 10 days.

SEEDLING
PHASE 2

After germination, the sprouted seed will spend the next 2-3 weeks in the delicate seedling stage where it must receive 18-24 hours of sunlight, moist soil, and mild humidity to grow rapidly. During this stage, the plant is primed to begin developing its root system, as it will require an ever-growing network of nourishment. As it begins growing in search of nutrients, the seedling will begin to produce sets of leaves.

The first-fingered leaves can grow up to 4 inches above cotyledon leaves and will have serrated edges. This set of leaves grows in pairs on opposite sides of the stem.

VEGETATION
PHASE 3

Once a seedling develops 7 sets of pointed leaves, it enters vegetative growth.

During this stage, the roots and foliage of the cannabis plants can develop rapidly where it will achieve most of its vertical growth.

This stage last between 3 to 16 weeks.

FLOWERING
PHASE 4

It can take anywhere from 7 to 14 days for a plant to enter the pre-flowering stage.

Once it does the sex can be determined by the pre-flower found at the nodes.
Female: Two pistils that contain the reproductive parts of a flower will be growing on the buds.

Male: Small green sacs full of pollen will be seen on the node areas.

In the flowering stage, cannabis plants enjoy warm weather, and medium humidity, and benefit from intermittently receiving blooming nutrients which will last between 8 to 11 weeks.

MATURE HARVESTING
PHASE 5

The plant is ready to be harvested when the colors of the hairs that grow inside of the pistils on cola buds turn from white to reddish-orange and the trichome heads turn from transparent to milky to opaque and finally amber.

If there is a high color ratio of white to red pistils, it will provide a euphoric THC high.

If the color ratio is redder to white, it will provide a calmer, CBD-stoned feeling.

If half the trichomes are paque and the pistils haven't turned brown, it will provide a balanced THC/CBD high.

EARLY HARVEST

- ❖ Since the proportion of tokens produced at each stage is different. After harvesting, you will receive the $GREENGOLD tokens that have been produced, and the remaining unproduced tokens will be burned along with the land NFT.
- ❖ When harvesting before FULL maturity, the staked $GREENGOLD tokens will be linearly depreciated according to respective proportions.
- ❖ Land NFTs will be burned after harvesting.
- ❖ As the supply of land decreases, market scarcity increases, and NFTs will continue to cycle through a burning and cycling mechanism.
